HAPPY NEW YEAR!

2012 was certainly a very exciting and busy year for PIM. In one year there has been 34 investigations, numerous Library events, Public investigations, classes, Radio, and TV events. PIM has traveled all around Wisconsin, as far north as Pembine, as far South as Shannon, Illinois, and all the way to Mansfield, Ohio! 2013 is shaping up to be even busier. This summer PIM will be traveling on a week long "Expedition"! This will involve 4 investigations throughout Ohio and Kentucky. First stop will be revisiting the famous Ohio State Reformatory in Mansfield, Ohio. The next stop will be Sedamsville Rectory in southern Ohio, then on to Bobby Mackey's music world in Wilder, Kentucky. Lastly will be the "Grand Daddy" of them all Waverly Hills Sanatorium in Louisville, Kentucky. Stay tuned in the following monthly Newsletters as PIM will feature each place individually. Each place is rich with history both historical and paranormal. PIM will again be doing many local investigations and events in the New Year. These will be posted on our Website and in our upcoming Newsletters to keep you well informed. PIM would like to thank all of you for your wonderful support and wish each of you a very happy New Year and best wishes for a wonderful 2013!!!

Looking for an Opportunity to learn more about the paranormal?

PIM's founder, Noah Leigh is holding another round of Paranormal Investigation courses through the West Allis/West Milwaukee Rec Department.

Two levels of courses are offered, the first in January and the second in February.

Member Spotlight:

Each month we'll highlight a member's story. This month we feature investigator Chris Paul

How long have you been a Paranormal investigator? It's hard for me to pin down when I first started investigating. It's been at least 25-30 years. My first exposure to actual "investigating" was back in the days of the Hans Holzer's books and W.S.P.R (which many members have already passed on). It seems in the early days I always "worked" with a psychic/medium, it was just the way it was done back then. Recording was done on cassettes and lots of flash photography since there was no such thing as night shot. Dowsing rods were also frequently used and a compass, which took the place of the modern day EMF meter. I guess I'm still old school on lots of things and trust my instincts more than anything else. I've often seemed to know where to point a camera at any given moment but I don't consider myself a sensitive.

How long have you been with PIM?

I've been involved with PIM for about 2 years now. Before that I was dormant for a little while since some of my former investigators had gotten just a little older and not investigating anymore. I also had one of my "teachers" pass on but I'll never forget the lessons she taught me, God Bless. I "shopped" around a bit and came across PIM. I really liked that they looked professional and credible.

What kind of equipment do you like to use on an investigation?

I guess you could call me old school but I prefer my camera and a recorder. The spirit will find me and often has.

Equipment Spotlight:

PIM Pod - This device detects positive and negative ions and turns on or off a light to indicate which is more abundant. In this device, a light comes on when positive ions are detected and the light goes off when negative ions are detected. This device can be used as an item in front of a stationary camera or used actively during an EVP session to try and get spirits to interact. This device is a cheap alternative to the pricey REM Pod sold by Gary Galka as they have similar features and do the same thing. This item was built by PIM member Randy.

Did you know that whenever PIM goes on an investigation they always write a report on their findings and experiences? Each report includes everything from the investigators present, the EMF and temperature readings from each room at the location, time and location of each EVP session and any experiences during them, Sensitive readings if there are any, equipment used and where it was placed and the outside conditions and environmental data. All of this takes a lot of time but is crucial to each investigation. The PIM website has an Environmental Data page that explains the importance of these readings. You can also find the reports themselves on our Cases page. Please take some time to check out these pages. If you have any questions please feel free to email us, we will be happy to answer any questions.

Recent Investigation News/Highlights

On November 30th PIM visited a Private Residence in Rochester, WI. This was an interesting location with many claims of activity including a baby's room which seemed to be a point of interest. The team that investigated this location was unable to capture any activity during their visit but PIM would like to further their research at this location at a later time.

On December 7th and 8th PIM had the honor of investigating Tinker Swiss Cottage in Rockford, IL. This was a beautiful location with rich history and many claims of paranormal activity. While the PIM investigators were there they did have some personal experiences but unfortunately none was captured on audio or video. PIM hopefully will return to this great location for more investigations in the future.

On December 22nd PIM did a walkthrough of the historic Former Pabst Brewery! This is a wonderful location that PIM is very excited to be able to investigate in Spring 2013! Stay tuned for more information on this exciting future investigation!
