The 3rd annual Horror-O-Rama, Milwaukee's premiere horror festival, celebrating all things horror will be pitching it's tent at The Best Place in the old Pabst Brewery again this year, this time in the Great Hall! Tickets are $15 beforehand (see our website for link) and $25 at the door so get your tickets right away! After the event, stick around and participate in a real paranormal investigation with PIM! Tickets must be bought at Horror-O-Rama, for only $10!

PBR has been around for 167 years starting in 1844, which is pretty good considering there was a fair amount of breweries in Milwaukee at that time! Although, the name didn't change to Pabst until 1889 after Captain Fredrick Pabst married the daughter of the original owner, Phillip Best. In 1893 Pabst entered into a beer competition and won, thus giving it the name Pabst Blue Ribbon.

In 2001 Jim Haertel bought the abandoned building and took great care to bring the old building back to life. But perhaps some of the spirits of the old brewery remain. The owner claims that after toasting Captain Pabst he felt the back of his neck being touched. Others hear the sounds of children's laughter near the staircases where a school was once present in the building in 1858 and others say they have eerie feelings in the building. If you want a chance to find out what is really lurking in this old historic building please join us after Horror-O-Rama while PIM investigates it's mysteries.

Recent Investigations News and Highlights:

- On April 11th Noah, Gravy, Missy, Tony, Andy and Denys went on an investigation to the Conover Square Mall. This was the first investigation that PIM used it's new Faraday cages. PIM members place their control recorders (sensitive recorders that are worn on their person) in a Faraday cage. A Faraday cage operates because an external static electrical field causes the electric charges within the cage's conducting material to be distributed such that they cancel the field's effect in the cage's interior. PIM's main goal in using these are to block radio signals from interfering with their audio recorders thus causing false EVP's. This is just another step in making investigations more controlled and remove confounding factors. Conover Square Mall is a huge 122,506 square foot facility located in the small city of Oregon, IL. The investigation went very well and we will be returning to further our research there in the future. PIM's evidence review is still ongoing and will be finished soon. Official results will be posted in the report which can be found on PIM's website once review is finished.
- On April 18th John, Denys, and Jarod investigated a residential home in Brown Deer, WI. This was a very interesting case with the clients having seen three different apparitions in and around their home. During the investigation none of the PIM members were able to witness any of these apparitions but the evidence review is still ongoing on this case. PIM's first priority is always helping the clients in any way that they can, especially making them feel safer in their home.
